WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Indiscreet Talk By

Senators Is Assailed

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The senate of the United States is a lonely place these days. You might be able to get a quorum of senators in Rome or in London or in Berlin, but it's hard to corral enough voters here in Washington, in spite of the fact that business of the utmost urgency is before the senate.

Some of these senators would serve their country better if they stayed at home, and that goes especially for the little band headed by Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. Officially it is a senate sub-committee on communications. But its function seems to be to spread disinformation and disunity.

These juketeering senators appeared before a GI forum at a Red Cross club in Rome. While they tried to keep their remarks off the record, that didn't work and the record got out.

Asserted Statement

According to a reliable news account, the discussion inevitably turned to Russia and our relations with the Soviet Union. Finally Senator Albert W. Hawley of New Jersey, a Republican, put this question to the GI forum:

"How do you men feel the greatest majority of your soldiers who have fought the war and been here a long time? How do you feel about finishing the job by fighting the Russians?"

Before the audience could make any response one of the other senators, reading what he said, this was switched to the subject. But if the senator from New Jersey had talked to any GIs at all he would not have needed to ask that question.

They are longing for home. They don't want any more war. They don't see any reason why we should fight Russia.

Indiscreet Talk Hampers

A Colorado woman writes to a newspaper to protest the ignorance of those who congratulate the bride.

There is no excuse, she says, for a person not knowing that we will be held responsible and can talk on the part of some Americans at San Francisco has only returned to the Russians.

Imagine the shock on the part of those who congratulate the bride.

There is no excuse, she says, for a person not knowing that we will be held responsible and can talk on the part of some Americans at San Francisco has only returned to the Russians.

Guts and dignity grow on the side bush.

If you want to be invited back make your bush shorter.

Some men can be reformed by persuasion, but none by compulsion.

A man who had the green light at an intersection, he stopped to avoid hitting a pedestrian who had started across ahead of the red light.

An impatient driver drove back and forth, hitting his horn, trying him down.

The driver stopped to stop a pedestrian on the dashboard. He did not know where the car had been parked.

He was warned off the dashboard.

New Government Ruling Bavaria

Non-Nazi Government Is Created With Non-Nazis
Holding All Of Posts

BY PIERRE J. HUSS

U.S. Staff Correspondent

MUNICH, June 8.—A non-Nazi government rules in Bavaria today for the first time since 1933.

Although Germans have been installed in key positions under Friedrich Schaeffer as minister-president of Bavaria, the governmental setup is supervised by Col. Charles E. Keegan of New York City.

Colonel Keegan, appointed by

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to be military governor of Bavaria, is res-taught to fondly now as the Gau-leiter from the Bronx.

To Eliminate Nazis

Schaeffer, as nominal head, will be held personally responsible for the people working with him. All are liable to summary court martial if they violate the rules established or administer their offices improperly.

Each minister, on taking his oath of office, is given an eight-point directive. He promises not only to carry out the administration of governmental functions and law enforcement but also to strip all bodies of Nazi sympathizers or Nazi party members.

The office of Colonel Keegan announced meanwhile that the death of former Nazi Bavarian Gauleiter

Paul Geissler had been established satisfactorily after his body was exhumed. The bodies of his wife and mother-in-law also were identified.

A check-up into the previously reported suicide of Geissler was motivated by a suspicion that the Gauleiter might have covered his tracks through a suicide rumor and went into hiding in the mountains.

Colonel Keegan assigned Lieut.

Col. Wilson P. Colberg of San Juan,

Juerto Rico, to the job of tracing the facts which disclosed the miserable deaths of many of Hitler's top cohorts. The bodies of many, dead or suicide or murder by aides, were towed from the Bronx.

MEDIA—America must make "tolerance" more than a word if democracy is to be preserved, Judge Henry

G. Swan told the local Business

Men's Association.

An announcement by Colonel Keegan on the German personnel in the Bavarian regime explained that none of the members ever had been a member of the Nazi party.

As a guarantee against any possibility of mistake it was pointed out that any German can be discharged without notice or explanation.

Medley Guilty; Faces Death In Electric Chair

Auto Salesman Convicted Of Slaying Last March In Washington
By Nancy Boxer

WASHINGTON (AP)—(INS)—Joseph D. Medley, 34-year-old auto salesman, today faced death in the electric chair for the robbery slaying last March of red-haired Mrs. Nancy Boxer, 44.

After deliberating two hours and 13 minutes, a jury of three women and nine men found Medley guilty of committing first degree murder by killing Mrs. Boxer during the perpetration of a robbery. The offense carries a mandatory death sentence.

Medley, an escapee from Michigan State prison, was accused of returning to the woman's swanky Washington apartment after an all-night poker party March 5, robbing her and then firing two bullets into her brain.

Mrs. Boxer was found dead in the kitchen of her apartment shortly after eight p.m. March 8. Judge T. Alan Goldsborough did not immediately set a date for sentencing Medley to death in the dismally tall electric chair.

German High Court Opened At Coblenz

PARIS June 8—(INS)—The opening at Coblenz of the first German high court to be established under supervision of the allied military government was announced today by supreme headquarters.

The court, having eight non-Nazi judges on the bench, marked the start of a new chapter in the German judicial system. The court will serve an area which had a pre-war population of nearly 1,000,000 persons.

Civil claims involving more than $50 marks, thefts by one German from another and other purely German cases will be handled by the court. It will not deal with any case having even the slightest military aspect.

Two changes in polling places have been made by the county commissioners. The fourth precinct of the Second ward has been changed from Shaffer's garage on Highland avenue to the Pennzoil station at Park and Highland. The first precinct of Perry township has been changed from Ketterer's garage to the fire department building in Winterville.

Another change contemplated is being protested. It was planned to change to the fifth precinct of the fourth ward from Berkey's garage at 401 East Linton street to the D. M. Owens building at 711 Arlington avenue. Voters of the precinct have protested against the change saying the new location is not convenient.

Throughout most of the occupied zones and despite the lack of transport the food situation at the present is not serious. Things are running very smoothly.

Small fry Nazis screened by our own intelligence service are being maintained in public positions because there are few outside of them capable of handling the job. Thus far the Americans have had no trouble maintaining law and order and restoring the ordinary services in Germany and parts of the Austrian Tyrol.

Apart from occasional wire cutting and minor sniping incidents from die-hard SS units, there has been no evidence of a German underground such as the Weiswolff organization.

According to the information received from the 10th Air Force in Paris Lt. Jack Dunlap is a pilot on a B-24 Liberator 328 in a plane which developed engine trouble while returning from a mission to Maribor, Yugoslavia and crashed on February 13, 1945.

Leaving the plane through broken windshield, Dunlap looked back in time to see his flight engineer stuck in the same opening and although the plane was burning and in danger of exploding he turned and dragged his crew member to safety.

The new Grumman FTF Tigercat, described as the most powerful fighter and bomber now in use, has revealed itself as one of the U.S. Navy's strongest answers to greatly improved Japanese planes.

The Tigercat almost had a head-on with the Grumman Hellcat and with the nosepiece as fast than anything the Japs have at sea level, and is expected to serve vital in defending against low-level sneak attacks.

In an attempt after the enemy at a mile-and-a-half altitude to drop a 4,000 pounds of bombs in a single Marine torpedo plane also an anti-submarine and mine-clearing plane with wings and a combination of rockets and bombs. The new plane is designed to be used both speed and versatility.

According to the Navy, all three squadrons will go to Marine Corps fighter squadrons in the Pacific to help in delivering the final blow to the Japanese mainland.

County Must Absorb Return Of Several Hundred Veterans

When Johnny comes marching is expected that several hundred men will soon be headed home. Their future in the community they came from is a question mark, but a very important question mark to them.

Local committees, as well as Congress and the administration, have done more planning, legislating and organizing for service to veterans during this war than in all previous wars combined, pointed out Ralph T. Jordan, USES official in charge of veterans employment in this area. New Castle's veterans' service groups, far from mushrooming overnight, however, have grown steadily to meet current needs.

Agencies Will Help

So far, Mr. Jordan emphasized, these local agencies will help to advise men like Corporal Ted Addison who has an Army record which includes action in Africa, in Sicily, and again in Germany after he recovered from wounds received in the Sicilian campaign.

Now that he is on his way home, to take it easy, copies of his discharge papers are speeding to the offices of the Veterans Administration in Washington, to his local draft board here, to the reemployment committee of that board, and to his veterans' employment representative here in New Castle.

When the corporal shows up for a talk with the veterans' representative, some of his history will already be known. Emphasis in Ted's case, as in any veteran's, will be on permanent job security rather than immediate manpower needs, but like 95 out of 100 boys who come into the New Castle office, Ted will want to get into a job immediately rather than go into formal education.

Dachau All Time German Stigma

Stench Of Infamous Prison Camp Can Be Smelled Ten Miles Away

Pvt. Robert Beulke Secures Freedom

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
U.S. Staff Correspondent
INSIDE CONQUERED GERMANY, June 8—(INS)—Dachau will remain for all time a stigma on the name of Germany.

You can smell the stench of this infamous German prison camp ten miles away. It is located in a tranquil, almost idyllic spot in the country eighteen miles northwest of Munich, "Cradle of Nazism."

It was the first concentration camp set up for Hitler and it was here that the Nazi sadists experimented on human beings as "guinea pigs" and roasted them to death in ovens after gassing them in the braebad shower room.

No wonder every German man and woman in Germany today hastily disclaims knowledge of what was happening in Dachau. The mere fact such a place existed is an indictment against the German people to which they have no answer except to blame it on Hitler and his mob of terrorists.

Along the walls of the camp there is a group of well-constructed two-story houses among the trees just inside the high wall which surrounds the camp.

Billets of S. S. Guards

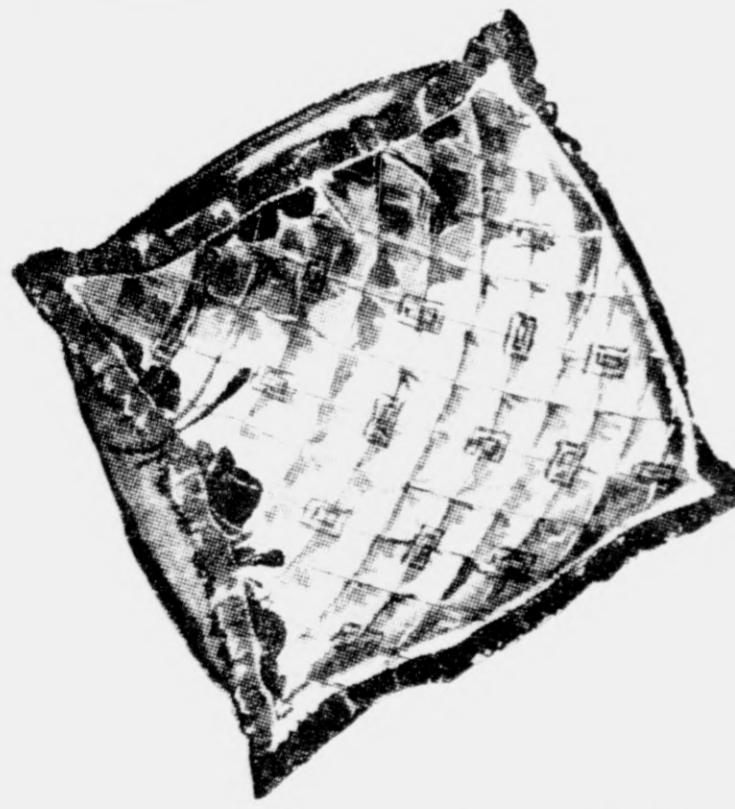

Those comfortable-looking homes had been the billets of the SS guards who had often administered twenty-five lashes to the bare backs of the unfortunate prisoners, or had kicked them into insensibility, or even hanged them by the necks or thumbs as their whims dictated.

The guide was one of the liberated prisoners. He had spent years in Dachau and his emaciated face and thin body showed it.

"There were 40,000 prisoners here at one time," he said. "There are about 30,000 left. The normal capacity of Dachau is about 15,000 so you can imagine the frightful congestion here under the Germans."

"They packed us in. Men had to sleep head to toe, three in a small bunk. Sometimes one of the three would be a corpse. It was filthy."

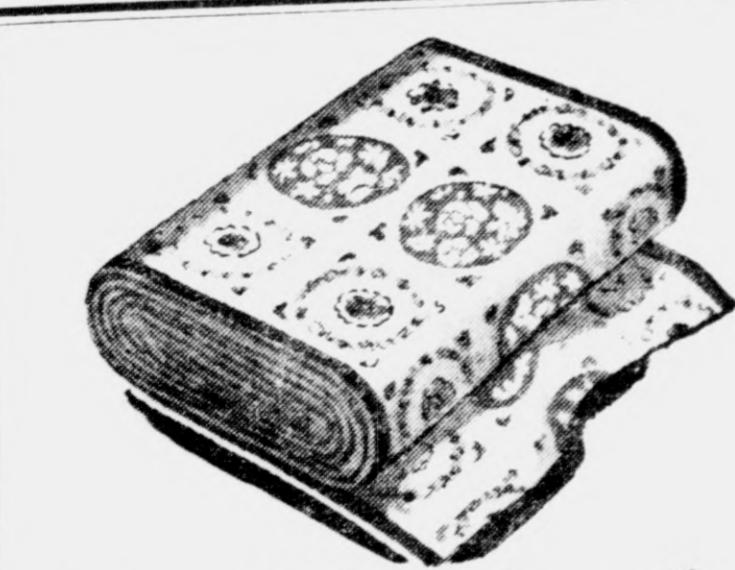

Altman led the way to the "blocks."

They were men of all nationalities—Czechs, Jews, Russians, French, Hungarians, Yugoslavians, Italians and Poles. They were happy now. They all had a story to tell. They laughed and sang and listened to banjo or mouth organ music.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

PHILADELPHIA June 8—(INS)—Eighteen men were charged with conspiracy and defrauding the government of $89,000 on ship repair work today in indictment handed down by the federal grand jury in Philadelphia.

In a sweeping probe of war contracts frauds, the jury charged 17 of the men with padding payrolls, listing phantom workers, and fore-ing subcontractors to "kick back" on profits. The other defendant was charged with faking names on a payroll and collecting the extra money himself.

Babson Gives Views On End Of Pacific War

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 3.—May I start by calling attention to the definite statements made in my column of December 25, 1944, in which I predicted that the greater part of Germany's army will collapse before the German planting season opens in the spring of 1945. Japan will follow, but not so soon as most people would expect. I think Japan will collapse within six to 12 months after Germany disappears.

If Stalin's predictions hold true, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1945, and must dictate the peace terms especially for the Pacific.

Looking At the Record

I am enclosing prints of the above forecast in view of the conditions under which it was written. Readers will remember that last summer the prints were very popular and looked for the collapse of Germany at any time. But I say there would be no collapse in 1944. Then the Germans started their famous blitz in the middle of December, and Washington was very much disturbed. In fact, a study of newspaper clippings will show that I was almost the only columnist who was optimistic at the close of last year. But I knew the German temperament.

I have been in Japan since Germany declared war upon us and still have an agent in Shanghai. I further have always been interested in American missions in both Japan and China. I however am basing my present forecast upon some material which may seem very unimportant to many readers. I refer to the fact that my personal house-servant is Japanese, born in Tokyo. He has lived with us day-and-night for two years and was preceded by a cousin who was with us for seven years. Hence I know the Japanese temperament.

Japanese Character
It is true that certain Japanese who descended from a famous old prince have the hara kiri religion. These few will commit suicide rather than surrender. They now serve as human bombs. They however make up but a small portion of the Japanese people who, as a whole, are human like ourselves actuated by the same motives. A Japanese soldier will live on very little food. They can carry on his back. They are tough physical specimens. Hence it costs the Japanese only 20 per cent to support their arms of what it costs us to support an American army. But what of this? Japan is less than 20 per cent of our size.

A Japanese soldier will readily obey orders and follow blueprint like any other method which they have prepared for happens, they

Asserts Mitchell Also Foresaw Rocket Bombs

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(INS) A friend of Gen. Billy Mitchell, prophet of aerial warfare, declared today that the World War I hero also foresaw rocket bombs and the use of the dirigible for national defense and world commerce.

The disclosure was made by Col. James E. Cassidy, chief engineer of United Nations airships. Inc., an transportation company for lighter-than-air craft and aeromaritime advisor of the general from 1922 until Mitchell's death.

The revelation, he said, in 1925, Gen. Mitchell and he had rigged up a dummy rocket bomb that had traveled 125 miles.

Col. Cassidy, who was commanding officer of the First Army Corps Engineers in France in World War I and chief of the construction section, Army-Navy Munitions Board from 1941 to 1944, said:

Rigged Up Dummy

"Gen. Billy Mitchell and I rigged up a dummy rocket bomb in 1925 and shot it 125 miles out to sea from Long Island. It was a crude home-made affair but it went 125 miles just the same."

The aeronautical engineer said that Gen. Billy Mitchell had also advocated a fleet of dirigibles and blimps for this country, to be used in wartime for coastal patrol and submarine spotting and in peacetime for commercial carriers.

"Back in Mitchell's day," Col. Cassidy said, "the danger of dirigibles and other lighter-than-air craft lay in the fact that inflammable hydrogen was the gas used."

"With the advent of helium that danger is past, and in fact there could be no safer form of travel."

1926, Gen. Mitchell recommended that the United States build a fleet of airships to include 25 dirigibles.

Col. Cassidy asserted:

He pointed to the fact that blimps

Japan Revamps Government To Cope With Crisis

International News Service
A call for a drastic revamping of the Japanese government to give it extraordinary authority to cope with the forthcoming decisive battle of the Pacific war was made in Japanese quarters today.

The principal settlement was to rule in Tokyo.

"Please send other well-informed men to Japan to confer with the Japanese government, and our suggestion that final struggle will be fought ultimate," the Japanese telegram said.

The statement of the Japanese was reported by the Associated Press.

Facing Crisis

In an article written by one of its political leaders, who was not named, Tokyo reported that "it is felt that the government should be empowered with extraordinary authorization to enforce the laws or means of imperial decree but without the approval of the Diet to enforce emergency measures that are similar in character to the exercise of extraordinary power."

The dispatch said that the well-informed political circle had pointed out that the ruling of Japan by imperial decree could be carried out by amending article 31 of the imperial constitution. This article declares that "in times of war or in case of national emergency, the emperor can rule without regard to constitutional guarantees, including the rights of property, of assembly and public assembly."

The transmission of this dispatch by Donet followed other Tokyo reports indicating major political developments were in the offing yesterday morning. Tokyo said Premier Kantaro Suzuki reported to the emperor on general politics and in the afternoon held a five-hour extraordinary meeting with members of his cabinet. Suzuki also conferred during the day with Gen. Jiro Minami, president of the political association of great Japan, the new totalitarian political party.

LAW OF NATIONS

Russia's capitulation to Germany, the beginning of discussions on the World Security Council, was believed to remove the last major obstacle to the creation of the postwar international peace pact, an objective of the world's best thinkers and statesmen.

Demands for an international organization to prevent wars have been made with increasing insistence since the end of 400 years of warfare. In the 1800's, when the Dardanelles Bridge, Dardanelles, was completed, came the "Treaty of Nations."

This treaty, inspired in Europe during 400 years, was established to regulate the beginning of international war, but it was only after the Napoleonic Wars of the early 1800's that an international compact was made to make all possible efforts to end war.

The League of Nations, which was formed in 1920, was the first international organization to try to end war.

After the League of Nations, the United Nations was formed in 1945, to try to end war.

Bowles Fears Breakdown Of Price Control

WASHINGTON June 8. (INS) — OPA Administrator Chester Bowles charged today that proposed Senate amendments to the bill continuing the price control agency "would lead to a complete breakdown of price control" if adopted.

Bowles' statement at a news conference was in reference to amendments proposed by Sen. Taft, R.-Ohio and Thomas D. Okie.

The price administrator characterized these amendments as a "real crisis" in the government's plan to hold the line against inflation.

"No one can question that these amendments would cause immediate and substantial increases in the cost of food, clothing and other necessities of life," Bowles said.

Lead To Breakdown

Their sponsors say their amendments are intended to raise the prices of these articles. In my judgment, as price administrator, they would do no more than this. They would lead to a complete breakdown of price control."

Bowles emphasized that he wanted to make it perfectly clear that the issues are up to Congress to decide. Congress, he added, is OPA's board of directors and we shall do our best to carry out their decision.

"A price administrator, however, is in responsibility to state as clearly as possible what I believe the effect of the amendments would be," the OPA chief continued.

The Thomas amendment to set price margins on all agricultural products, including meat, Bowles said, would authorize prices over and above current cost, the processor "chooses to name." He criticized the measure of this kind.

It would force abandonment of OPA's uniform pricing plan unless every processor was granted a price high enough to yield a profit to the most efficient. In the case of the meat industry, some 50,000 to 60,000 individual prices would have to be computed.

The amendment would require an "army of accountants" to compute the thousands of individual prices.

3. Each item would have a different price that would change with every fluctuation in cost, with no incentive to keep costs down.

The colon and semicolon were first used in English punctuation in the 16th century.

American Parents Of 'Axis Sally' Are Broken Hearted

NEW YORK June 8. (INS)—Two loyal American parents were brokenhearted today at the news that their only child was under arrest in Turin, Italy, as the notorious Axis Sally, whose honeyed voice distilled propaganda for radio listeners during the war in the Mediterranean.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Constantine I. Zucaro, father and mother of 23-year-old New York born Rita Louis Zucaro, now face charges of treason in the Italy which has been her home since the age of 17.

Zucaro operates a well-known Italian restaurant in the Broadway area near Rockefeller Center.

Timothy Zucaro, a cousin and namesake, revealed yesterday that "Sally" was born in lower Manhattan and sent to a Roman Catholic convent in Florence when she was 13. There she lived for five years. She later lived with relatives in Turin and while she gave some concerts, she found her soprano voice did not contain sufficient timbre or volume for operatic success.

Her name was seen for the first time in 1941 when she came to New York for a visit. She became an Italian citizen in 1941, despite the protests of her parents.

Rita, Timothy insisted, had never had any interest in politics, but was absorbed in music.

Before her arrest, military authorities said she would be sent to this country for trial for treason if caught.

Senator Seeks To Curb O.P.A.

McKellar Joins Forces Seeking Amendment To O.P.A. Regulations Curbing Power

By FRANK B. ALLEN
U.N.S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D-Tenn., senator and president who sits in President Truman's cabinet by invitation, today joined forces seeking to curb O.P.A. power.

McKellar announced he will vote against the administration effort to continue the price control act without change.

I am for the Thomas amendment," he said. He may even take the floor for it.

A few days ago he announced he will vote against his own amendment which he proposed two weeks ago if O.P.A. supporters introduced it in an effort to beat off the far-reaching Thomas amendment.

Administration leaders were reported ready to offer the McKellar amendment. This would prevent him only by requiring that profit margins be computed on the basis of each species of live stock instead of on overall profit on combined meat packing operations.

May Be Setback

McKellar's bold move is probably part of an administration's effort to keep the boast of O.P.A. critics that some 10 or 12 Democratic senators will join in supporting the price agency. If that happens, revision of O.P.A. law is assured for nearly all Republicans will support the Thomas amendment.

The Thomas amendment would require that every processor of agricultural commodities be allowed prices to reflect all costs recognized in computing taxes and a profit margin equivalent to that in some previous base period.

McKellar termed the Thomas proposal "a better amendment than mine."

"I go further and is more specific," he said.

The Tennessee veteran brushed aside the letter to him in which O.P.A. Chief Bowles promised to follow a pricing policy giving separate margins on cattle, sheep and hogs and assuring allowance of profits.

He is willing to accept Bowles' promise, he said, "but my people in Tennessee want it in the law he added."

Anyway, it's the duty of Congress to legislate one out of O.P.A.

Business Unchanged Third Straight Week

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—INS. Business in the Pittsburgh district held unchanged in the first consecutive week according to the University of Pittsburgh bureau of business research.

There were small decreases in the volume of industrial production and in marketing freight shipments, but they were offset by an increase in the volume of trade.

The index after consideration of seasonal change was at 176.9 percent of the 1935-39 average.

Administrative leaders were reported ready to offer the McKellar amendment. This would prevent him only by requiring that profit margins be computed on the basis of each species of live stock instead of on overall profit on combined meat packing operations.

Red-Hot Fight Developing In American Loop

Yanks, Browns, Tigers, Well Bunched At Top Of League Today

GIANTS CARDS TOPS IN NATIONAL

By LES CONKLIN

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 8.—A record-breaking race in the American League was ushered today with the announcement that Johnny Lindell, star catcher, Cleveland Indians, and 883 major of the New York Yankees, had been named in the All-American Team. The 10-man team will appear in the Yanks' tremendous and may even cost them the pennant. For "King Size" Johnny is known to the trade as a big player. You might say that as Lindell goes so go the Yankees. Without him in the lineup, the league-leading New Yorkers will become just another ball club instead of a first-line dog competitor.

Browns-Tigers Win

Lindell stands out above his company. He is the type of player who can be counted upon to break up a well-organized attack at any given moment with his long arms.

The lead in the idle Yanks in the American League has been continued to one game yesterday when the Detroit Tigers had a 10-6 win over Cleveland 3 to 2 behind Hal Newhouser, the greatest pitcher in the loop. The champion St. Louis Browns took undisputed possession of first place in the junior league by defeating the White Sox three to two and four to two.

The Boston Red Sox took fourth place by nosing out the Athletics in the tenth, 3 to 4, on Garber's single with the bases loaded.

Putting on the Worst exhibition in war-time baseball history, the Brooklyn Dodgers committed no less than eight errors and handed a 10 to 5 win to the New York Giants. The players Cincinnati clumped back into the division by downing the Pilgrims, 7 to 3.

The Boston Braves made a clean sweep of their four-game series with the Phillies by defeating the tall-somers twice, 3 to 1 and 7 to 3.

At St. Louis, the Cardinals took their title to second place in the National League by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, in a night game.

LOUISVILLE AGAIN IN DERBY THROES

By LAWTON CARVER

International News Service Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 8.—The names of a dozen or more top three-year-olds throughout the country are in the box this morning for tomorrow's big running of the most famous horse race in America. Derby Day, June 10, will yield a winner.

Willie Hoppe, who like wine improves with age, says the reason for so few good half-mile billiards is due to the strict training. He walks two miles every day to condition his legs. He remains aloof of movies because of eye strain and reading for the same reason. Liquor is out because of its effect on the nerves. In other words, being a champion was great financially but not much fun.

To Bud Russler, Pirates at home in July vs. Phillips 12-14 inclusive vs. Dodgers, 15-17, inclusive vs. Giants, 18-20 inclusive vs. Braves, 21-23, Indications are Bud will yield fitting for baseball next month.

It was the final hour of form 1 entry, the time when you do or you don't bid your horse in the $75,000

bluegrass classic with $50,000

as the winning purse or about $65,000

as the moment for spring the horses are approached interest began to ebb in keeping with tradition.

The trainers looked over their horses, scanned the kiosks and informed the owners that this morning the trainers will then offer to the secretary office at Churchill Downs and drop in a name or two, stayed away determined not to run after all.
